Kindness, understanding, respect and concern radiated from John Paul II, the young people's Pope, as he passed through the streets of Philadelphia on October third and fourth. Those fortunate enough to attend the Mass offered at Logan Circle and those who watched the Pope on television were deeply affected by his unmistakable aura of love and peace.

Students from the schools throughout the Archdiocese helped to welcome the Pope by acting as ushers for the clergy and multitudes of lay people. Receiving special recognition for their outstanding service were the members of Prendie's Student Council who graciously escorted countless pilgrims to their seats on the two days in which Philadelphia truly became a "City of Brotherly Love."

HIERARCHY

His Eminence John Cardinal Krol, Archbishop of Philadelphia

Monsignor Francis X. Schulte, Superintendent of Schools

Sister Anna Josephine, S.S.J. Principal

Miss Julia V. Mayer, Vice-Principal

100 ITH PTZINIADH

Sister Anna Josephine and Miss Mayer brainstorm educational improvements which they continuously implement at Prendergast.

One of the many new faces that added even more color to the freshly painted hallways in September was Miss Julia Mayer, new Vice-Principal.

In order to stay in tune with the beat of the student body, Sister Anna Josephine keeps in direct contact with the Student Council.

Principal and Vice-Principal enjoy the after-hours job of being in the receiving line at the Ring Dance.

Coordinators

School Coordinators lead students to a greater appreciation of Prendie spirit, academic achievement, and needful discipline. Sister Mary Immaculata, R.S.M., Director of Studies, guides girls in scholastic areas, while Sister Bernard Eileen, S.S.J., Disciplinarian, guards with a watchful eye. Sister Mary Jogues, I.H.M., Director of Activities, channels school spirit through countless undertakings.

Mastermind of a gigantic roster board, meaning there is "a place for everyone and everyone in her place," is Sister Mary Immaculata, R.S.M.

Beyond enforcing school regulations, the chief concern of Sister Bernard Eileen, S.S.J., is that students develop ideal principles of Christian responsibility and leadership.

Sister Immaculata discusses course selection with an eager student.

Seniors check their progress in the annual drive, a major project of the Activities Office.

Sister Mary Jogues, I.H.M., really spread the Prendie spirit as she distributed hundreds of pandas during the School Improvement Drive.

Special Services

Sister Mary Rita holds an impromptu conference in the Guidance Office.

Sister Clare Emmanuel has the mammoth task of compiling attendance data.

Sister Mary Rita Boyle divides her time between the Activities and Guidance Offices.

Sister Helen Raphael keeps in order the records of lateness and demerits.

The Discipline Office is one of the busiest spots at Prendie.

Guidance

"Tears, fears, and feeling proud . . ." Counselors lend an ear and give advice on vocational, educational, and personal problems. Various enrichment services are offered such as the gifted and remedial programs which cater to students' individual needs. The door to the Guidance Department is always open, and Mrs. Maria Marino and her assistants are waiting with willing shoulders and dedicated hearts.

Sister Mary Evarista coordinates Prendergast participation in Delaware County Intermediate Unit services.

Visits of college representatives attract students during lunch periods.

Guidance Counselor, Mrs. Maria Marino, welcomes all with her sincere desire to listen as well as advise.

Sister Mary Consolata helps Brenda Miller and Leslie Simmons in career planning.

Sister Mary Consolata knows all the answers to the endless questions about college.

School Ministry

Father Michael Dabrowski offers his time and understanding during the Freshman Penance Service.

The friendly, contagious smile of School Minister, Father David Givey, is familiar to all.

Father Paul Kennedy prepares to celebrate a class Mass.

Father Thomas Mullin pauses from his reading as he prepares an inspirational homily.

Father David Givey congratulates joyous seniors after the Ring Mass.

Father James Grogan, Father Francis Fitzmaurice, Father Francis Horn, and Father Kevin Trautner concelebrate Mass.

The magnetic colors and careful detail of the stained-glass chapel windows enhance the atmosphere of reflection.

Saying Mass and hearing confessions are two important duties of the School Minister, Father David Givey, and the four chaplains who assist him. But they are also always available as indispensable friends in times of trouble and as sources of encouragement and concern in times of joy and decision. Their Christ-like manner is constantly making the presence of Jesus more readily felt in the Prendergast Community.

Father Kevin Trautner leaves school contentedly after a full day.

SEULO

TOP OF CARSS

Successful teams have their all-stars, popular rock groups have their lead-singers, and Prendergast High School has its top forty-five. While sports demand conditioning and music involves practice, being the top of the class requires working to the full extent of God-given mental capacity. The girls who have achieved this distinction have proved to be an incentive to the rest of the student body to reach for the highest academic goals and to attain their fullest potential in every phase of life.

In Memory of Our Friends

Dolores Buchanan August 17, 1961—February 9, 1978

I would just like to try to express the feelings I have for Dee. Dee was unique, I never met anyone like her. She was strong, she never let her problems show.

We all loved her.

She would always be there whenever anyone needed someone to listen to and help with a problem.

She supported us when we needed someone to lean on.

In remembering Dee, I'll remember the good and the bad times. I treasure, and always will, the memories that we had. In losing Dee, I feel I lost not only a friend and a sister, but a part of myself as well. I will always hear her laugh in my mind and I will always see her smile. It lighted up her face, as the sun lights up the sky at dawn. I see her eyes that were bluer and prettier than the clearest sky in spring. Dee, I know, is here with us now, and will be forever. I tell you we love you now, and will forever.

Carol Gilooley

Dawn Hanson January 20, 1963—May 4, 1979

Her laugh filling the air with joy,

Her smile spreading childlike happiness.

Eyes blue within, reflecting life as the sun reflects on the sea.

Beauty can never be captured—only relinquished.

Death be not meaningless. Let it be full of new life. She silently departed from this world. Sadness of it creeps through backstairs of my mind. Eventually, pain erases with time. Memories stay forever new.

Dawn brings light.

We sing away eeriness of night.

To us who are so blind, opening eyes will find her presence always near. Keep friendship we must, remembering as we whisk into the heavens. Passing days soon shall find us with our loved ones.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society represents one of the greatest honors a student can achieve. Those girls who have maintained a general average of eight-five and possess outstanding qualities of Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service are thereby eligible.

During a candlelight Induction Ceremony, sophomore probationary members are inducted into the Prendergast Chapter while junior and senior members are re-inducted. With the help of moderator Sister Mary Immaculata, members tutor classmates when academic assistance is needed.

NHS Officers. Joan Colgan, treasurer. Monica Hanlon, secretary. Patricia Angelina, vice-president. Barbara Colasante, president. Sister Immaculata, moderator.

FACULTY ACADEMICS A TOUCH OF INSPIRATION

Religion

By reflection on revelation under the guidance of the faculty of the Religion Department, the mystery of God and His world is made clearer to students. The Old and New Testaments, moral ethics, Christian philosophy, and the history of the Church are some of the topics covered in the four-year religion program. The aim of all religious studies is to provide students with a deeper understanding of their faith, and ultimately, a deeper personal commitment to Jesus Christ in the community of the Church.

This senior religion class sees the humorous side of one of Mr. Spires' endless anecdotes on love and marriage.

Mr. Spires ties in the Biblical readings of Matthew and Mark with today's moral situations.

Hands seem to be a vital part of Sister Robert Cecilia's morality class.

Social Studies

Through an in-depth look at the past, students gain a unique insight of the present. Courses such as American History, World Cultures, and Sociology acquaint girls with the cultures and civilizations of other lands and the problems existing within American society today. With the help of the faculty of the Social Studies Department, a more objective view of the world is possible, equipping students with the necessary knowledge of the past to guide them in the future.

The ceaseless tip-tapping from the typing rooms on the third floor provides an atmosphere of mellow background music to accompany the silent, pondering overtones of students at work. Typing, stenography, notehand, and accounting classes are centers for development of speed, poise, and personality. Thus, girls who take secretarial courses are adequately equipped for finding and keeping a good job in the business world.

Fine Arts

Artistic silence, musical harmony, and occasional sore throats, are the basic characteristics of the Fine Arts Department. Through constant training, students further vocal, instrumental, and creative abilities to their fullest extent.

In art classes, various topics such as printing, pastel drawing, figure sketching, and painting are taught. The orchestral and choral classes stress the finer points of music for appreciation as well as for performance. Girls not enrolled in these specialized courses touch upon the music and art of the changing times through the General Music and Art programs.

Dedication, efficiency, and the pursuit of organization keep Prendie's secretaries busy typing, filing, and answering telephones. Their much needed aid helps to ease the enormous task of the administration while providing students with never-ceasing smiles and an aura of constant enthusiasm.

The nurses in the Health Office are always prepared to provide emergency first-aid and take care of the sick. They also keep records on the weight, height, sight, and hearing of every student enrolled at Prendergast.

Working in the Principal's Office, Mrs. Marie Rigney and Mrs. Mary Clifton keep the school books up-to-date.

Mrs. Stephanie Jandura and Mrs. Billie Hearn are the Main Office correspondents with the outside world.

Mrs. Jean Grandizio, secretary in the Studies Office, assists students with their academic endeavors.

Nurses, Kathleen Ford and Leona Baski, are ready for all emergencies.

Both groups at Prendie supply friendly smiles and cheerful assistance while dutifully performing their services. The maintenance staff provides the school with a clean, orderly atmosphere and general well-being by doing an interminable number of behind-the-scene jobs. Student Council

As representatives of the entire student body, the senior Student Council members act as mediators for the faculty and the girls. Their daily tasks range from typing announcements to coordinating Prendie Day, senior activities, and the Junior and Senior Proms. The sophomore and junior Student Council members help to organize such various school projects as Thanksgiving baskets and Christmas presents for St. John's Hospice. They also have the responsibility of creating a pathway to the administration through communication.

Miter

Providing updated information which is necessary to keep students well informed is a large responsibility. This task is tackled through the thorough coverage and informative writing of Prendie's press. With fine editing and enthusiastic reporting the Miter is released five times a year. Between each distribution there is much strenuous work as deadlines are met. The constant dedication of the staff results in a very popular paper for the reading enjoyment of the entire Prendergast community.

Facets

Through the combination of diverse styles of writing from the entire student body, Facets evolves as an expressive collection of short stories, poetry, and other creatively written fiction and non-fiction articles. It also incorporates the efforts of student artists who provide illustrations for the literary compositions with imaginative doodles. Through this magazine the rapidly disappearing art of writing is given a booster shot of hope and allows girls a chance to display their abilities.

Excellence is acquired through hard work and determination by students who refuse to settle for anything less than their best. These girls constitute the various honor societies in Prendie. Through Tri—M, the Modern Music Masters, vocalists and instrumentalists donate their services at secular and liturgical events. The Spanish and French Honor Societies distinguish those girls who have mastered the art of foreign language. The Business Honor Society chooses students who do outstanding work in all business subjects.

Chorus

It is no wonder that Chorus is a very popular activity at Prendie. The many joys of singing for special school shows and beautiful liturgies far outweigh all the work involved in each performance. There is a special kind of happiness that comes with singing in local nursing homes and religious services outside the school when total strangers become friends through beautiful music. All of this joy culminates in the Spring Musicale, the grand finale of the year.

Two of Prendie's cultural groups often share their talents by providing inspirational meditatons at school Masses. Besides performing liturgical interpretations, the Dance Troupe also adds a professional touch to many shows and assemblies.

The Folk Group guitarists, flutists, bass players, violinists, and vocalists use their God-given talents to produce harmonious melodies for liturgical and secular performances.

Masque & Mime

Projecting themselves into diverse characterizations and situations, Masque and Mime players receive much instruction in dramatic techniques before they perform in plays and assemblies. Interest, enthusiasm, and many hours of rehearsal make acting on the stage almost a way of life for these girls.

Before reaching stardom, each actress must learn basic skills. Through the Freshman Drama Club, girls develop their own performing talents and exhibit them in May for the faculty, friends, and family.

Behind Scenes

Behind every dramatic production, concert, and assembly is the Stage Crew. Members devise and assemble props, organize sets quickly and quietly, and work a multitude of lights for the smooth coordination of every stage event.

The Costume Club is responsible for the bright colors and originality of the attire worn in Prendie's productions. Students and several teachers sew and embellish costumes.

Forensics

The highest point of a person's potential lies within his own self-awareness. Through public speeches and tournaments, the Forensics Society enables students to gain self-confidence and freedom through vocal expression. Members learn and refine the techniques of debate, declamation, and original oratory, and must constantly be in touch with current events, especially for extemporaneous speaking.

Knowledge in Action

After school activities include those which are based upon academic studies and recognized as competetive organizations. Mathletes and Scott's Hi—Q are two of the teams which compete with other schools in quiz meets. Applying their knowledge and enthusiasm has enabled the girls to win trophies and maintain titles within the leagues. In the Science Club, interested students are able to apply their knowledge in after school fun.

Spiritual Involvement

God's light shines forth through those who wish to pass it on to others. The Youth Ministry group offers its services at the 7:55 Mass and in the distribution of Holy Communion, while Core Liturgy members are responsible for planning the music and prayers at the special Masses. Members of Youth Ministry also acitively care and share with fellow students in need.

Appreciating life in all its mystery and beauty, members of the Respect Life Club try to impress upon the students at Prendie the importance of knowledge and compassion in the struggle for life. The club promotes a pro-life stand through visiting homes for elderly people, attending lectures on the Right to Life, and joining in the March for Life in Washington, D.C., on January twenty-second.

Respect Life

Members of the Respect Life Club work together to honor life and defend its worth.

Serving the Community

Diligence, devotion, and dedication are necessary for all members of the Community Service Corps. They extend their services to those outside the Prendie community in a variety of works which are designed to help everyone. PATH is a fostersister program. YES members visit the poor and the elderly in Little Flower Nursing Home and St. John's Hospice. Poor children receive toys on Christmas through the work of Operation Santa Claus. Horizons encourages weekend retreats at Camp John Neumann. The best known of the CSC projects is the program in which girls tutor underprivileged children who have a problem with math or reading.

Bowling

Who ever thought rolling a ball down an alley could be so much fun, cause so much excitement, and involve so many skills? Bowling is the combination of precision, timing, technique, ability, and, of course, a little luck. These traits produce the winning qualities which enable Prendie's bowling team to score endlessly and remain in the top of their class. Gehris Lanes is the site of much hard practice under the guidance of Miss Anne Condon.

A strike is foretold by the determined look on Sharon Faramelli's face.

Swimming

Splish, splash, I was swimming in the tub, all about a Saturday night . . . Consisting of meets which include backstroke, butterfly, and free-style relays, the swim season provides members of the swim team with stiff competition from soggy, but formidable opponents. Skill, coordination, and endurance are necessary to complete the strenuous exercise involved in preparing for a successful season.

Track

After a long hard day of school work the members of the track team hang up their uniforms and slip on sweat-suits for a good workout around the track. Whether jogging at a slow pace or sprinting over hurdles with winged feet, Prendie's team is always on the run and hot on the heels of their competitors in the battle for the Catholic League Championship.

"And they're off and running!"

"I can't believe I hit Sister with the ball," exclaims Lynne Brophy.

Lucy Tierney has no problem returning the ball.

Bonnie Whalen shows what a struggle it is to get the ball over the net.

Tennis

Billy Jean King, Chris Evert, and yes, even Bobby Riggs were very good in their day, but as soon as they heard of Prendie's tennis team they retired from the whole "racquet." Under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Audet, the team assemblies for its spring season with itchy palms and aching biceps, ready to overcome all who challenge them.

Softball

"Here's the windup, the pitch, it's a homerun! That's right, folks, a homerun, and I believe that it's going out of the ball park," announces a W.A.P.H.S. sports-caster. Softball involves fast thinking, quick reflexes, and long hours of practice to reach perfection. This kind of drive, with the aid of Miss Anne Egger's expertise, has made the team a grand-slam success.

Kathy Segar's professional style is surely going to gain her a place on the Phillies' roster.

Lori Valentine displays her ballerina skills while returning a volley.

As the volleyball passes up, up, and over the net, the hearts of excited fans thump faster and faster causing an air of anticipation throughout the gym. Under the direction of Miss Pattie Hyland, team members perfect their skills of serving and volleying with pride and satisfaction. The girls really dig spiking the ball in the new gym.

"R-O-W-D-E-Y, never let that spirit diel"

Basketball

With hands down, Prendie's top ranking basketball team can bounce balls around its opponents. Through the skilled guidance and expert coaching of Mr. Joseph Thurwanger, the Pandas prepare for a successful and enthusiastic season combining tireless practices with long term dedication. Their consistent efforts and high hopes result in the ultimate perfection of the skills and techniques necessary to rank among champions.

ACTIVITIES

A TOUCH OF REMINISCENCE.

Installation

The real first day of the 1979-1980 school year was September twenty-sixth, the day on which a huge crowd gathered in the Archbishop Prendergast auditorium to witness the inauguration of the president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the student body. Also on the stage were the various leaders of clubs and other activities, who at this time accepted their responsibilities and received recognition for their new status. The excitement and inspiring words of the day provided a strong cornerstone upon which a year of myriad accomplishments was built.

Father David Givey imparts inspiring words to new leaders.

All on stage listen proudly to try to catch Mary Kate's unique brand of school spirit.

Sister Anna Josephine extends sincere congratulations to Student Council president, Mary Kate McFadden.

Vice president of Student Council, Renee DuBois, happily accepts her badge and the many jobs that go with it.

Mary Kate McFadden spells out the special responsibilities of each class.

Lucy Bertolino, Student Council secretary, eagerly receives the badge of her office.

"That I may be faithful," is the prayer and motivation of each Student Council Officer.

Ellen Crowley receives symbolic lighted candle as she officially becomes Student Council treasurer.

Ring Day

Only the eyes of seniors and their mothers outshown the brilliant sparkle of the garnet stone in the school ring, when the class of 1980 received their long awaited bands of golden memories. The day was enhanced by the celebration of the Eucharist and the traditional turning of the rings. Later in the evening the Ring Dance brought the magical day to a close with the music of Numbers and the official symbol of fidelity encircling a promise for tomorrow.

Prendie Day

"The halls are alive with the sound of freshmen . . ." The spirit has been here for a long, long time and is passed down from year to year to the newest members of the Prendie family. On October sixteenth the frosh were welcomed by a play based on the Sound of Music which stressed the vital importance of having school spirit and participating in clubs and activities. The freshmen also received letters from their senior big-sisters and were honored by an early dismissal.

"Jackie MacFarland" listens attentively to the message from Stage Crew.

"How do you solve a problem like a freshman?"

The chorus sings joyfully of the many clubs at Prendie.

"Happiness is being a freshman."

"Do you mean I'm supposed to see a school spirit?"

"I'd like to say a word in her behalf!"

Story Theatre

Giving a new twist to the legendary morals of Aesop's fables, the cast of Story Theatre, under the direction of Mrs. Denise Dobson, gave unique performances based on children's stories but relayed in an adult manner. The music of Bob Dylan and the Beatles enhanced the mature situations and subject matter.

"Please don't shoot!" cries the Pink Bear

Return to Oz

Many area children saw one of their favorite storybook characters come to life in the dramatic production of Return to Oz in the Prendergast auditorium. The young audience showed much concern for the lost Dorothy as they joined in with shouts at the encouragement of the actors. The Lion, the Scarecrow, and the Tin Woodman encountered new situations and friends in this modern musical sequel to the Wizard of Oz.

Joy abounds when Princess Ozma is rescued.

Junior Prom

Once upon a time on the sixth of April, nineteen hundred seventy-nine, the dreams and anticipations of the class of 1980 were fulfilled as their long awaited Junior Promarrived. The enchanted evening created memories for all the princes and princesses who attended and was a night that will "Always and Forever" remain special.

Maria Rowan begins her fantasy by signing the book of dreams.

Maureen McGeehan shares in the joy of Cinderella as she finds her own Prince Charming.

The warm spirit of the gym welcomes Steph and her escort in from the cold.

Special Times

Halloween, Thanksgiving, and Christmas are special times at school as well as home with traditions for everyone to participate in and enjoy. Halloween is celebrated with a party which benefits the works of CSC. Thanksgiving is a time of giving to the baskets of food collected in all homerooms for needy families. The multitude of Christmas traditions include decorating the school, providing toys for Operation Santa Claus, and the Christmas carol performance of Prendie musicians as everyone leaves for the Christmas holidays.

Dad-Daughter Dance

On November 9, the seniors had their chance to become again "Daddy's little girls." Both dads and daughters carried on Prendie tradition at the annual Dad-Daughter Dance by boogie-ing the night away to the music of the Contemporaries. The dads caught up on the latest steps such as the "rock," as their daughters attempted to perfect the fox-trot and the mummers-strut.

Kelly MacCrory dances the night away with her favorite date, her dad.

Anne Byrnes and her father remember the past and look forward to a happy evening.

Mr. Mulhern has a night out with his two lovely daughters, Helen and Kay (or is it Kay and Helen?).

"Let's go, Dad. We don't have all night!"

Mr. McWilliams does his Elmer Fudd impression for his daughter Cal.

"This one is on me, Dad!"

"I never knew disco was so easy."

Christmas Show

The central idea of the Christmas Show was the United Nations' theme of the International Year of the Child. The characters portrayed represented children of France, England, Poland, Spain, and Africa. The Orchestra provided international folk songs while the Chorus and Folk Group performed various popular Yuletide favorites and traditional folk songs.

Graduation—Nineteen Hundred Eighty

If the words are left unspoken, they'll probably never be said,

For there was a time and a place to share the thought.

if there is a gesture—an embrace, a kiss, a pat-on-the-back, left ungiven—

It'll probably never be received.

For there was a time and a place to pass the love along.

If friends are left without some remembrance, they'll surely all forget.

For there was a time and place to make a memory.

But if the memory was stored, and the love was passed from one to another, and the words were thoughtfully expressed,

There is cause to be happy,

for the opportunities of friendship have not been wasted.

And today the voices, hearts, and bodies of many share a single soul.

As the sun must set. And the night must fall. And the rainbow must eventually vanish into the mist expanding its aura of love and peace amongst the clouds, So must our days at Prendergast come to a close. Though high school life must end. the thoughts and memories that live on in this treasury of laughter. excitement, and unforgettable friends, Will some day in the future, become tokens of the post.
